“ Hey Khandis , it's your Uncle Chris ! Since your passing I've been mostly at a loss for words, but I want to tell you just how much I love you! It was only a few months ago that you and I were talking on the phone about your dreams and aspirations and doing my best to encourage you to follow them. I want you to know that I'm proud of you for trying in this life because it's really damn hard ! Whether you realize it or not, we were all blessed to have you as a part of our lives, and our memories of you and your life will surely inspire us to grow and change for the better. With your passing and all of the loved ones we've lost in our family, life has taught me to make friends with change . And that death too is another form of change, yet, we struggle to accept the outcome. As a man of faith, I know that you've transformed into someone far beyond beautiful in Heaven, and when the sun rises each day, we will all get to experience your rays of light too! I love and miss you Khandis ❤️🙏

“ *Marcy and family...I'm so sorry to hear of Khandis' passing. I used to love the stories "gramma Sharon" used to tell me about the twins and how fast they were growing up..I'm sure "Gramma Sharon" will welcome Khandis with open arms although it's much too soon for her ...So sorry ..my prayers are with you. “ When khandis and la Nyia were babies their father had to work so I had to help my sister Marcy put them to sleep which was hard because for some reason it had to be at the same time. So quickly they grow up. I will miss her greatly. Auntie will always have you in my prayers.
