

Trevor Washington Bennett

December 15, 1949 - December 19, 2021

Trevor Washington Bennett, Age 72 died December 19, 2021 surrounded in love with his family by his side in his home in Shrewsbury, Ma.

Trevor was born on December 15, 1949 to the late Edgar and Lurlene Bennett. Trevor was the youngest child of their union who was born sickly as a child but with prayers, some good Jamaican remedy and the loving care of his Mama, he made strides and grew up to enjoy good health as a young man, excitedly jumping into many sports and activities and excelling at all of them; including football, cricket, and table tennis and of course according to him he was made to play dominoes because it was in his DNA.

Trevor's first job was that of a colporteur, selling adventist literature in and around Spanish Town and in the hills of St. Catherine. His good friend Noel Williams would often have to give him a ride because there was only so far he could get on his bicycle. The two often spent time reminiscing about days spent on River Road, singing as they went along. Trevor also worked for many years as a security guard on the wharf in Kingston.

Trevor married his beautiful girlfriend of many years Marsil Brown on December 16, 1979, the union produced the pride of his life, his two children; his first born a daughter Stacey-Ann and four years later Euwayne, who upon his birth stated "now I am able to pass the baton." Trevor was blessed with a beautiful singing voice, which he wholeheartedly used to honor God. He was highly requested to bless many church programs, events and multiple weddings with his warm, inviting vibrato.

Trevor migrated with his young family to the United States in April of 1985. He became an integral part of the Northborough SDA church, where he continued singing to the glory of the Lord. Trevor enjoyed many friendships and close relationships within the Northboro family, one of which was Cardinal Welch, who he partnered with on many occasions, being the vocalist while Cardie preached.

Trevor indulged in several hobbies, one of which was infomercial shopping; if it had the label "as seen on TV" it was part of his collection. He collected LP's and 45's, many dating back to the 60's, but by far his favorite thing to collect was currency from all over the world, if you recently traveled, and he knew about it, then you definitely contributed to his collection.

Trevor worked for 25 years as a Specimen Processor at SmithKline Medical Laboratories in Waltham, MA before retiring due to illness. He was first admitted to the ICU in 2014, after which his health continued to decline. In 2018 he was diagnosed with early onset dementia, secondary to multiple mini strokes. Unfortunately, all of this was compounded by the loss of his dear mother, with whom he shared a very close bond, Trevor was never the same after that.

Trevor went to sleep on Sunday December 19th at 6:02am. He leaves behind his beloved wife Marsil of 42 years, his daughter Stacey-Ann and her husband Mark, his son Euwayne and his wife Anna, his grandson Grant, granddaughter Nakia-Marsil, step grandchildren Zacci, Gislaine, Janelle and Zahara. Brothers Carl Sr., and wife Nelia, Stanford and his wife Patricia, sisters Monica and Ruth and her husband Orlando. Trevor also leaves behind his Aunt Esserene and Uncle Darrel and his wife Sheila, many nieces and nephews, cousins and friends in the Northboro SDA church family.

“ It was so painful to learn of Trevor's (Chicken's) passing. He was our dear friend. His singing from those early Spanish Town days will remain with us forever. We will cherish the fun times we spent. So sorry he still couldn't master the Domino. Marcil, please be comforted that we will see him on that Great Getting up morning.

“ Figuring out what to say and how to remember a friend who passed away is difficult. It is so difficult not to remember moments that were special and things that you did together, so that it brings a smile on your face instead of a peaceful grimace.

We will never know why things happens the way they do. I came across a certain which was written many years ago and that settles in my mind the "why". It reads: It is the prerogative of God alone to prescribe the duty of men and angels. The will of God is a perfect will.....and every requiremt is just and is set forth by infinite wisdom. (Signs of the Time, September 24, 1894, par 4)

My friend Trevor, "Chicken" as he was known by many, your going away from us is not goodbye forever because the God on that never to be forgotten day, who called you, is not a God of separation but a God of reunion. We know, on that day not too far away we will be at the place we love dwell. Where all the hist of heaven gather, worshiping, bowing down before Him
Farewell my friend "Chicken".

Take your rest until that day when we will join all the host of heaven, bowing down, singing and worshiping in presence of our God.
So long Trevor Washington Bennett.....

“ Uncle Trevor, such an amazing person. My reluctant walking partner but I usually get him to do a bit with me especially when I gave birth to Dominique after much coercing though.LOL.My dependable chauffeur, my singing peep who always chicken out of singing with me after we would practice in the car driving around MA or even when he picked me up in NY. My chatting partner who offered numerous advice and encouragement. Introduced DJ and myself to one of our now favourite snack, "goldfish". Family is super important and you certainly made me feel apart uncle Trevor. Thank you for welcoming me from the onset of Douglas and myself relationship. Thank you for giving me your time and showing me such kindness. I love you Uncle Trevor. It pains my heart that you passed before I got to see you. I will cherish the memories for a lifetime. Sleep on uncle Trevor.

Peace

Uncle Trevor and I became friends through my aunty Marsil. It was always a pleasure seeing him or just hearing his voice. I was looking forward to meet him in person but this will never happen here in this life. I am thankful for the resurrection then I will get to meet him . I met him over a year ago and I hold the times we get to share pleasantries (though few) I am going to cherish the moments. (Thanks aunty for sharing him with me)

Uncle T was my late dad's friend (my dad is aunty Marsil's late brother)

Aunty I am so very sorry for your loss. 42 years of marriage is indeed a long time I can just imagine how difficult it must be for you.

The song writer stated," No one understands like Jesus, He is a friend beyond compare...

I am here though virtual. I love you and I will continue to pray for you.

My mom, sister and my friends bring condolences. You and the rest of the family members are in our prayers .

I remember Trevor as a jovial person with a contagious laugh which he displayed around the domino table on Saturday nights.

He used to tease me about my "Chiffon" dish of food that I would take to work for lunch. He referred to it as puss kitten food.

I can still hear his voice echoing in my ears as he sang one of my favorites, "The Lighthouse".

Walk good, Trevor. Sleep and take your rest until the great gettin' up morning when we shall meet again.

I knew Trevor as "Benzo" at West Indies College (W.I.C.) and "Chicken" in Spanish Town.

At W.I.C., I remember his involvement in a plot to polish me on dorm (Cedar Hall) as I often retired early. I also remember him as an inside left for Saturn (?) House, often occupying the outside left position and swinging in crosses. (He was, of course, much slimmer then) I can't believe that he's gone.

I also remember wanting him to sing "No one understands like Jesus" as the Meditation for a Christmas sermon at the Spanish Town Seventh-day Adventist Church. (That sermon was never preached and that song never sung for that occasion).

I can't say we were close, but you couldn't attend Spanish Town Church in the '70s and early '80s and miss Trevor. I didn't even know he shares one of my middle names.

See you in the morning, Bro.
